

The mobipa projet aims to help elders and people with disability or with reduced mobility. The goal is to make sure that anyone in the city of La Mure can move from a place to another without having to worry about the accessibility of a place or its distance.

The project implies the participation of volunteers who will take care of the of the whole ride.

Our role as students is to create a platform that will connect the passengers to the volunteers allowing them to schedule a ride to specific place at a certain time.

But sometimes it appears that no volunteer is available and this is where the town hall employees are commitionned to take care of that ride.

A Good Samaritan is not simply one whose heart is touched in an immediate act of care and charity, but one who provides a system of sustained care.

James A. Forbesamet,

The driver will be provided with all the available trips.
He will then chose according to his availability.

Both of the driver and the passenger have their own interface with their own specificities

The user is provided with a simplified interface, this way, it will be easier to use for each and everyone

The passenger can choose freely his trip, he'll be provided with a search bar if he wants to go to a specific adress, or he can pick specific place in the map with a place picker.

Once the passenger is picked up by the driver, another interface appears where the driver can track the their locations and the remaining trip.
